Key Investor Information Document

This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

ISIN code: SE0012193159

Share class: SEK C

Lannebo Fonder AB, registration no 556584-7042

Objective and investment policy

The fund invests in Swedish and other Nordic corporate bonds. The fund may invest in both fixed income securities with low or no credit ratings and those with a high credit rating, so called investment grade. The average assessed creditworthiness of the holdings must at least reach investment grade. The credit and interest-rate duration of the fund's holdings is normally at a maximum of five years.

The fund seeks to minimize the effects of exchange rate fluctuations by hedging investments in foreign currencies using derivatives.

The fund is managed according to Lannebo Fonder's investment philosophy of active asset management. Each investment is evaluated individually. We invest exclusively in corporate bonds issued by companies that we are familiar with and which we judge are stable with strong balance sheets. The fund invests in corporate bonds from various industries, geographic regions and varying risk profiles. Deviations against benchmark index can be both larger and smaller over time.

The objective is that over time, taking into account the level of risk, generate a stable return which also exceeds the benchmark index. The fund is meant to be an alternative to traditional interest bearing savings and is aimed at those who are willing to take more risk than the traditional interest bearing savings but do not want to invest in the equity market.

This document is valid for share class SEK C traded in Swedish kronor and is aimed at distributors providing investment advice on an independent basis or portfolio management and has a fee adapted to the fact that distributors may not receive and retain compensation from the fund company. The fund normally pays no dividend and all income is reinvested in the fund.

Purchase and sale of units of the fund may normally be made on all banking days.

Benchmark: Nasdaq OMX Credit SEK.

Recommendation: The fund may be unsuitable for investors who plan to withdraw their money within three years.

About the indicator: The risk and reward indicator illustrates the relationship between risk and potential returns from an investment in the fund. The indicator is based on how the fund's value has changed over the last five years.

The fund's investment: The fund belongs to category 2, which means a low risk for both increases and decreases in the value of fund units. Category 1 does not mean the fund is a risk free investment. Over time the fund may shift to both the right and left on the indicator scale. This is because the indicator is based on historical data that is not a guarantee of future risk and returns.

Interest risk, i.e. the fund's sensitivity to changes in interest-rates, may be higher in this type of bond fund compared to a short term fixed-income fund. That's because the fund may invest in fixed income securities with longer maturities, which normally means greater volatility, but also the opportunity for higher returns. The indicator primarily reflects increases and decreases in the value of fixed income securities in which the fund invests.

Risk factors not shown through the indicator: The credit risk is not fully reflected in the indicator. Credit risk refers to the risk that the creditworthiness of an issuer or counterparty becomes impaired affecting the value of the security. The fund managers assess the credit quality of the investments regularly.

The liquidity risk, i.e. the risk that a security cannot be sold at the intended time without a major reduction in price or substantial costs. This risk may be higher in corporate bond funds than in fixed income funds or equity funds. The corporate bond market has a lower transparency and liquidity than e.g. the stock market. Liquidity may vary due to changes in demand and supply. This places greater demands on the management of liquidity and that the fund from periodically has an appropriate mix of holdings. The risk is also managed through the management company's option to limit the size of the fund. The fund is currently limited to SEK4bn.
